Are you or your people:

- Feeling demotivated, demoralized, defeated, and dismal?
- Wondering how we will ever get out of the mess we are in?
- Looking for ways to get your Mojo back and find the YOU that used to be better able to handle this?

You are not alone. We are in a transitional time and that calls for unique perspectives and different ways of looking at our problems. Beth Terry, CSP, has that unique point of view. She has overcome numerous personal and business challenges that have served to make her stronger and more resilient. She has managed hundreds of people in a variety of industries - Service, Retail, Insurance, Real Estate and Tourism. And her motto - "WHAT'S THE LESSON?" has served her well. And her audiences benefit from her stories of strength and survival.

When things go wrong, you can sit and pout...or you can stand up, dust yourself off, and get back on the horse. Beth chooses the horse. No matter how difficult life looks, there IS a way to find a new beginning. There IS a way to move forward, one baby step at a time if necessary.

Beth is a big hit at Corporate Events and Women's Retreats. Her workshops and programs speak right to the heart of the matter. She doesn't pull any punches. There is no silver bullet. You can't "do anything you want with your life" - that's an unrealistic expectation and it harms rather than helps. Instead, Beth serves up a healthy dose of real solutions with a dash of humor and a twinkle in her eye. She believes in you and your teams more than you do. And she'll help them use new logic and new ideas to move out of the doldrums and back to a healthy and productive life.

Perhaps the most telling sign of Beth Terry's effectiveness is that her clients ask her back again and again, and the majority of her business comes from referrals. Beth Terry's down-to earth style, practical message, and sense of humor have earned her high marks with meeting planners and attendees alike. Her presentations are carefully crafted to meet the needs of her audiences. Beth engages her clients, learns about their challenges, and then brings real life examples and practical advice to her listeners.
