How will you keep your talented employees and engage your younger generations? How will you manage growing business demands and still find time to coach your people? These are familiar questions that all leaders face - and few have the solutions to these problems more clearly than Bill Benjamin, an expert in the cutting edge science of Emotional Intelligence.

Bill Benjamin is the CEO of the Institute for Health and Human Potential, a successful international business, recently named one of the "Fastest Growing Companies" in the "Fast 100" ranking in PROFIT Magazine.

Bill understands the barriers preventing leaders from growing profits and nurturing a healthy corporate culture. Bill struggled early in his career as a leader. He applied the same EI techniques he teaches, enabling him to engage his team members - ultimately growing a computer software business from $2 million in sales to $75 million.

Bill's practical and scientific approach to leadership, combined with his advanced degrees in Mathematics and Computer Science, make him a hit with analytical audiences. His experience in sales gives him a high degree of energy and enthusiasm. Bill has presented to discerning audiences that include Surgeons, U.S. Army Commanders and NASA Engineers.
